THE WORLD'S NEWS

SINCE LAST THURSDAY, CAREFULLY ASSORTED AND CONDENSED FOR BUSY PEOPLE.

The commencement of the University of North Carolina takes place this week.

Prof. F. P. Holbrook, principal of Oxford Female College, has been elected President of the Richmond Baptist Institute.

A destructive fire occurred at Los Angeles, Cal., last Sunday. Total loss is about $100,000, on which there was comparatively little insurance.

The Decennial Celebration of the Goldsboro Graded Schools occurred on last Wednesday. Addresses were made by Hon. C. B. Aycock and Prof. Alderman.

Memorial services were held in Richmond last Friday in honor of both the Confederate and Federal dead heroes. The graves of the memorial dead were decorated and sermons and orations were made by prominent men North and South.

Last week two large Lutheran Synods were in session in Pennsylvania. One in the city of Lebanon the other in Pottstown. The General Synod at Lebanon numbers twenty-five distinct synods and constitutes over 1,000 ministers, over 1,400 congregations and 160,000 communicant members. The other large body in session was the General Council. It numbers over 1,000 ministers, over 1,600 congregations and over 300,000 members. This Church, as has been shown in the above statement, is strong in strength and power and is gaining strength all over America.

ROSEBORO DOTS.

MAY 30th, 1891.

We see in the last issue of The Caucasian taken from the Washington Messenger, that the prospect for a good crop in Sampson county this year is very small indeed. Now that may be so. East in Sampson, but is not cause in Western Sampson, we are glad to state. Your correspondent has been over the larger part of Sampson lying west of Big Cuharic, and has also been through Cumberland county in the last three weeks and we have never seen better prospects for good crops, considering the late spring than there is at this time. Sime warm weather has set in the corn and cotton that had been kept back by the cold weather has come out and bids fair to make good crops.

Mr. J. K. Sessions, formerly a merchant of this place, but now engaged in the naval store business in Graham, Ga., and who is visiting his father at Stedman, N. C., gave his many friends here a pleasant call yesterday.

Mrs. Berta Maxwell, of Fayetteville, passed through here yesterday on her way to visit her father, Mr. I. Royal, of Huntley, N. C.

"SWINBURNE."

How is This?

Seven Legs Killed by Hail.

The Raleigh Chronicle says: "Mr. D. B. Nicholson, of Clinton, is in the city. He tell a marvelous story of the effect of the hail storm which visited Sampson county several days ago, to the effect that it killed seven hogs belonging to a Sampson farmer." [Who is the Sampson farmer? —EDITOR.]

MOTHERS' FRIEND

SHORTENS LABOR

LESSENS PAIN

ATTENDING IT

MINISHES DANGER

OF MOTHER & CHILD

WORTH ITS WEIGHT IN GOLD.

"Mothers' Friend" is worth its weight in gold. My wife suffered ten minutes with a severe pain in her children when she did not sleep with her. After taking it she was relieved much suffering.

Mrs. M. M. Brewster, Montgomery, Ala.

Send to express on receipt of price, $1.50 per bottle. Books to mothers much free.

BRADFIELD REGULAR CO., Atlanta, Ga.

Having used two bottles my sixth child was born with no pain whatsoever.

Now I am a mother of seven children.

It is a great relief to me to know that it is a safe medicine.

W. G. HUBBARD.

STIMPSON, LITTLEFIELD & CO. To the Truckers of Clinton and vicinity:

As there seems to be some doubt among some of my old shippers, as to whether I am the Stimpson, formerly of the firm of Stimpson, Murray & Co., I wish to say, I am the Stimpson who originated and formed the firm of Stimpson, Murray & Co. I sold out my interest in that firm in 1850, to what is now J. F. Kimball & Co., and have had nothing to do with it in any way since that time.

Mr. J. F. Littlefield and myself have consolidated, under the firm name of Stimpson, Littlefield & Co., and to all our old shippers would say ship us your beans, and we will give them our undivided attention.

Yours truly, W. H. STIMPSON, (Formerly Stimpson, Murray & Co.) J. F. LITTLEFIELD, Composing firm of STIMPSON, LITTLEFIELD & CO.

ALLIANCE NOTES, DISCUSSIONS AND THE DOINGS OF THE VARIOUS LODGES.

[The CAUCASIAN was adopted as the official Organ of the Sampson County Alliance at the meeting in January 1859, 1859.]

SAMPSON COUNTY.

NEWTON GROVE ALLIANCE NO. 357.

The following resolutions were offered by J. F. Westbrook and were adopted by Newton Grove Alliance, at regular meeting held May 23d, 1859:

WHEREAS, Our grand and honorable Order, based upon truth, honesty and good honest principles, and the upbuilding of mankind and for the good of the rising generation, and believing that blockade whiskies are injurious to the above principles, be it resolved:

1st. That we, the members of Newton Grove Alliance, do all in our power to put them down.

2nd. If any member of this Lodge finds that any other member is dealing in liquors unlawfully, or handling it in any way, he shall be informed of his wrong doings and then, if he does not obey, he shall be reported to the committee on the Good of the Order and be held as an unfit member of the Alliance.

3rd. That these resolutions be sent to THE CAUCASIAN for publication.

4th. That the Progressive Farmer copy the above resolutions.

J. F. WESTBROOK,
Secretary.

TOM DIXON ON THE NEW PARTY.

radies. The political hack, dead-beat and bummer is there because he is everywhere. Yet, in spite of these potent facts, it was a great representative assembly.

If the histories we have untrue, it was a far greater and a more thoroughly representative body than which nominated Fremont for President.

SENATOR PEPPER'S BEARD.

It seems to me this convention in launching the People's Party wrote the preface to a new chapter in the politics of the nation. And for these reasons among others:

1. It implies the breaking up of the traditions of a generation.

Kansas leads the way. Kansas led the way once before. A few months ago Kansas was regarded as the most bitterly partisan State in the Union. Kansas now nestles beneath the flowing beard of W. A. Peffer. Ingalls, the silver-tongued charmer of partisanship, is forgotten. Names denote the groundlings fall out of each other gods. This is not an accident. It is a logical fact of profound significance.

TRUTH AND FAIR-SHOOD.

Their platform introduces a new element into the active politics of America. It is the platform of the modern Social Democrat. Socialism throbs in every line of their utterances. Their platform contains much that is utter rubbish, more that is fundamentally false, some things intrinsically dangerous to the welfare of society. It also contains truth enough to overturn the world. Let the old washes of politics lift up his head. He can sniff the bathe from afar. It's a dangerous platform. It believes something. It says something. Neither of the old parties claims this. The eye of each of these traditional organizations has been for the last twelve years "Turn the rascals out!" The rascals are the other fellows. The principles set forth in this platform strike at the very foundations of the present society and government, as the principles of the Abolitionists struck at the foundations of civil and political society before the war. This is a wave of the great social uprising of the fourth estate in the history of the world. The first great battle will be fought in the open field of America.

A MORAL IDEA.

3. This party is founded on a great moral idea. The Social problem is a moral problem first. It appeals directly to man's religious nature. Let the scoffers remember this. What they mean to say is that man is my brother—we must bear one another's burdens. They may say it crudely. They may mix much that is false in their utterances of this truth. But they do say it. Is the world ready to receive this doctrine? I wish I could believe it. We shall see.

4. It means the abolition of purely sectional issues and the earnest discussion of truly national issues. The war that opened at Sumter is over. This convention was national in the highest sense of the word. It is the Southeast was not there. This fact is all the more significant. The Southeast did not need to be there. The Farmers' Alliance has swallowed the South. The Democratic party has not absorbed the Alliance. The Alliance has swallowed, digested and assimilated the Democracy of the South. Names are of small importance. Names can be easily changed.

A FIREMAN.

5. It signifies that the common people, the under masses, are thinking. Half the delegates to that convention did not know its real significance. They do not understand their own movement. Many of them are ignorant and foolish. But they are thinking. They know something is wrong. They have put on their studing caps. They are thinking at the rate of a mile a minute. Thought is a revolution. Thought is an avalanche. Thought is a cyclone. When thought arises the world trembles, and well it may. Something must happen. What will the end be? It is in God's hands. He is our Father. We believe.

THE HEN WAR.

How Gen. Busbee Made Successful Movements.

Phillip Busbee, 6 years old son of Mr. F. H. Busbee of Raleigh, describes a battle with a hen as follow: Gen. Busbee was born in Raleigh, N. C., Dec. 20, 1851, graduated at the graded school. At the opening of the hen war he went into the army.

Hen's strongest fort was Fort Woodpile and Fort Big bush. Gen. Hen's army had taken Fort Pump and Gen. Busbee had returned to Ashpole, and there Hen attacked him, and a battle was fought, but at last Busbee retreated leaving Hen at Ashpole.

Busbee took post at Green-grass Hill and there he was met by Hen and a great battle was fought. Hen charged three times but was driven back. At last fell back to Gardenville. After defeating Hen's army at Green-grass Hill, Busbee advanced rapidly upon Fort Big bush, and captured it after a severe bombardment.

Hen had occupied Gardenville and was waiting for Busbee which was very soon. The two armies fought for a short while and at last Busbee retreated.

Hen's army now moved upon Fort fence. On the way to the fort Hen was met by Busbee at Backyardville. At last Busbee fell back to Fort fence. The seige had now begun and the fort was taken in a short while. After the capture of Fort fence Hen moved to Turnipfield near Gardenville. Busbee hearing that Hen was posted at this place, set out after him. As Busbee reached the place, Hen's army was about to move. Busbee at once ordered a charge.

Hen fought gallantly but was last forced to surrender. The war was over. [The foregoing was a composition when Little Philip was 6 years old.]

* Supply the Omission.

"Remember, boys," said the teacher, who, being still new to the business, knew not what else to say to make an impression, "that in the bright lexicon of youth there's no such word as fail."

After a few moments a boy from Boston raised his hand.

"Well, what is it, Soames?" asked the teacher.

"I was merely going to suggest, as he cleaned his spectacles with his handkerchief, that if such be the case it would be advisable to write to the publishers of that lexicon, and call their attention to the omission."

Montreal Star.

Human Instinct.

So powerful is human instinct, some of its suggestions become embodied in social and household customs. The people know and feel that at the beginning of the spring season the system needs an alterative and a purifying tonic and stimulant.

In all parts of the country it is the custom for the housewife to dose her child with camomile tea among simple remedies that our mothers employed, this deception has continued to hold its own.

The demand for asaphia and tonic however is filled more efficaciously by S. S. S., which is itself as simple as nature's remedial medicine should be.

It purifies the blood, cleanses and strengthens the system, and prepares the human machine to stand the wear and tear of the summer months.
